SECRETARY’S INSTRUCTION

NO 3 FOR UNACCEPTABLE BEHAVIOUR OF STUDENTS AND VOLUNTEERS AT, AND VISITORS TO, STATE SCHOOLS OR SCHOOL ACTIVITIES

Statement
This Secretary’s Instruction outlines the behaviour that constitutes unacceptable behaviour by students and volunteers at, and visitors to State schools and school activities, and the management of such behaviour by schools. And the processes that a Principal is to develop as the response to unacceptable behaviour, including the management of such behaviour.

Date published: July 2017
Secretary’s Instructions No 3 for Unacceptable Behaviour of Students and Volunteers at, and Visitors to, State Schools or School Activities

I, Jenny Gale, being the Secretary of the Department of Education, make the following instruction pursuant to section 128 of the Education Act 2016.

1. Purpose

1.1 The purpose of this Secretary’s Instruction is to determine:

a. behaviour that constitutes unacceptable behaviour by students and volunteers at, and visitors to, State schools and school activities, and the management of such behaviour by State schools;

b. processes that a Principal is to develop as the response by the school to unacceptable behaviour, including the management of such behaviour.

2. Scope

This Instruction applies to all State schools. In relation to the unacceptable behaviour of students. This document should be read in conjunction with the Secretary’s Instruction No 3 for Suspension, Expulsion or Prohibition of State School Students.

This Instruction is separate to the Conduct in the Workplace document that applies to School staff.

This Instruction comes into effect on 10 July 2017.

3. Instructions

3.1 Development of a school policy on behaviour management

3.1.1. A Principal of a State school must develop a policy that sets out:

what constitutes unacceptable behaviour for students;

a. what constitutes unacceptable behaviour for volunteers at, and visitors to, a State school or school activity;

b. processes for managing and responding to the unacceptable behaviour of students and volunteers at, and visitors to, State schools, including the removal of adults from a State school or school activity.

3.2 Behaviour that constitutes unacceptable behaviour by students

3.2.1. The following behaviour constitutes unacceptable behaviour of a student and is to be included in a State school’s policy that sets out the management of student behaviour:

a. refusal to participate in the education program;

b. disobedience of instructions which regulate the conduct of students;
c. contravening school rules and policies (e.g. a student’s failure to comply with the school dress code where the Principal determines that the failure is taken to be unacceptable behaviour);
d. behaviour that is likely to impede significantly the learning of the other students of that school;
e. behaviour that is detrimental to the health, safety or welfare of the staff or other students of that school;
f. behaviour or actions that cause, or are likely to cause, injury to persons or damage to property;
g. behaviour that is likely to bring that school into disrepute;
h. behaviour that is likely to put a person at risk of harm;
i. harassment or stalking;
j. threatening behaviour;
k. discrimination;
l. bullying or cyberbullying;
m. illegal behaviour;
n. unsociable behaviour (e.g. offensive language);
o. sexualised behaviour;
p. occupational violence;
q. any other behaviour that a Principal determines to be unacceptable behaviour (e.g. behaviour relating to the driving or riding, parking and removal of a vehicle on or from a State school campus and unacceptable behaviour on an online forum such as social media).

3.3 Behaviour that constitutes unacceptable behaviour of volunteers at, and visitors to, State schools and school activities

3.3.1. The following behaviour constitutes unacceptable behaviour of a volunteer at, and visitors to State schools and school activities, and is to be included in a school policy on behaviour management:

a. disobedience of instructions which regulate the conduct of volunteers at, and visitors to, State schools and school activities;
b. contravening school rules and policies;
c. behaviour that is likely to impede the learning of students at that school;
d. behaviour that is detrimental to the health, safety or welfare of the students or staff at that school;
e. behaviour or actions that cause or are likely to cause injury to persons or damage to property;
f. behaviour that is likely to bring that school into disrepute;
g. behaviour that is likely to put a person at risk of harm;
h. harassment or stalking;
i. threatening behaviour;
j. discrimination;
k. bullying or cyberbullying;
l. illegal behaviour;
m. unsociable behaviour (e.g. offensive language);
n. sexualised behaviour;
o. occupational violence;
any other behaviour that a principal determines to be unacceptable behaviour (e.g. behaviour relating to the driving or riding, parking and removal of a vehicle on or from a State school campus and unacceptable behaviour on an online forum such as social media).

3.4 The processes for responding to and managing unacceptable behaviour of students

3.4.1. The Principal of a State school is to ensure that students and volunteers at, and visitors to a school or a school activity comply with the relevant policy of that school and that processes for managing unacceptable behaviour are managed by staff.

3.4.2 A State school’s policy on behaviour management must apply to students enrolled at that school, and must set out a process for managing unacceptable behaviour at the school and during school related activities.

3.4.3. In developing the policy on behaviour management, a Principal may set out:
a. the rights and responsibilities of students; and
b. expectations of students, including about learning, communication, safety, privacy and care for the environment.

3.4.4. In setting out the school’s processes for managing unacceptable behaviour, the policy should include a range of responses and strategies that first seek to address the underlying causes of the unacceptable behaviour of students and processes for escalating the management of the unacceptable behaviour, including:
a. developing an understanding of why the student is displaying such behaviour and responding to the behaviour without reprimand (where possible);
b. removing the student from the classroom or activity;
c. detention of the student;
d. as a last resort, the suspension, exclusion or expulsion of the student.

The response should be developmentally appropriate for the student.

3.4.5. The processes developed by a Principal in managing the unacceptable behaviour of a student should be consistent with the Secretary’s Instruction No 4 for Suspension, Exclusion, Expulsion or Prohibition of a State School Student and the Department’s Student Behaviour Procedure.

3.5 The processes for responding to and managing unacceptable behaviour of volunteers at, and visitors to, a State school or school activity

3.5.1. A State school’s policy on behaviour management must apply to:
a. visitors to the school and visitors attending a school activity; and
b. volunteers volunteering at the school and volunteers volunteering at a school activity that takes place off site.

3.5.2 In developing the policy on behaviour management in relation to visitors and volunteers, a Principal may set out:
a. the rights and responsibilities of visitors and volunteers;
b. expectations for visitors and volunteers at a school or school activity, as it relates to their own behaviour and, for parents or carers, their involvement in managing the behaviour of their child;

c. how visitors or volunteers will be identified at a school and at a school activity (e.g. a sign-in process and issuing of identification);

d. processes to respond to escalating unacceptable behaviour.

3.5.3 If an adult person is behaving unacceptably within the meaning of the relevant policy for the State school, the Principal may require the person to leave the school premises or school activity.

3.5.4. A school may wish to issue guidelines for volunteers and visitors at a school to guide their behaviour on campus or at a school activity.
