

Early Years Coalition

A cartoon illustration of a grey rabbit with large black eyes and pink inner ears, wearing blue overalls. The rabbit is holding a very large orange carrot with green leaves. The background is light blue with a white cloud and a green plant. The entire page is decorated with colorful geometric shapes and patterns, including a green grid pattern in the top right, a yellow dot pattern in the middle right, a pink striped pattern in the bottom right, and a blue dot pattern in the bottom right. There are also several circular patterns in pink, green, and orange on the left side.

How to support children in the early years get a great start

Loving and secure relationships

Share with families why it is important for children to be loved and safe

Healthy food and environments

Role model and talk to children and families about healthy food options and environments

Opportunities for play and discovery

Share with families and children play ideas and talk about what's happening at your service

Positive and inclusive communities

Connect with and have outings with the children to meet their community, invite parents to come along

A sense of belonging

Run an event for Children's Week

Access to services and support

Invite other organisations to come to your service and share what they do with the children and their families
